Where: The rally will start at the top of Leighton Avenue where it intersects Colesville Road and end at the Indian Spring Recreation Center. Participants will walk east on Leighton Avenue, north on Worth Avenue, east on Baden Street, and finally north on Caroline Avenue, ending at the Recreation Center where refreshments will be served.

Stand up for Transit at the Purple Line Hearing on November 22nd

By Tony Hausner and Walter Gottlieb

We are writing to urge you to attend the upcoming November 22nd Silver Spring hearing on the Purple Line to support Indian Spring Citizens Association's (ISCA's) testimony.

The Maryland Transit Administration (MTA) released its Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS) for the Purple Line on 10/17/08. The entire document can be viewed at: <http://purplelinemd.com/aadeis/>.

The Executive Summary can be reviewed at: http://purplelinemd.com/images/stories/purpleline_documents/deis/Executive%20Summary.pdf

Indian Spring Neighborhood Crime Takes A Toll, But Not Community Spirit

By Allegra Tasaki

This past summer tested our neighborhood's resilience and community support. There were thefts, burglaries, and one shooting. Over the past five years, there has been a steady rise in crime in and around Indian Spring. While we all have expressed an interest in getting more control of this situation, we have been at a loss for the perfect solution.

As reported in the last Indian Spring Newsletter, we were all surprised to find that one of our own had experienced crime taking a violent turn (the shooting), simply because he was in the wrong place at the wrong time.

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

By Walter J. Gottlieb

I WAS GLAD TO SEE SO MANY COMMUNITY MEMBERS SHOW UP at the ISCA general meeting on crime on October 20th. The chairs were filled; there were even some people standing. But the turnout could have been even better. We wanted to make an impression on the police that the community really cares about crime in the neighborhood, and I know to a certain extent that we did. The police took it seriously enough to send 6 representatives, including the district commander, the chief detective, and a high-ranking lieutenant. Third District Commander Donald Johnson said he was gratified to see so many residents, too, but wished aloud that the Rec center had been filled to capacity.

It was a substantial, productive meeting. With statistics showing rising crime in our area between 2006 and 2008, residents expressed their concerns to police—and the police offered re-assurance that they are doing their best to patrol the neighborhood and solve last summer's shooting. We heard an eloquent testimonial from the shooting victim, whose biggest concern is that the same thing doesn't happen to anyone else here.

We wanted the meeting to be solution-focused. We explored crime prevention strategies, including possible community patrols, a porchlight campaign, new volunteers for Neighborhood Watch, and our upcoming Take Back the Neighborhood rally on November 16th. It's critical that we all show up and stand up to crime.

All of this requires a level of engagement and commitment on the part of the community. Believe me, I know we all are busy—with work, kids, activities, and all the myriad commitments of everyday life. But if we can't volunteer for Neighborhood Watch, help explore crime-fighting measures, show up at meetings and our upcoming rally, then I'm not sure we can make the neighborhood palpably safer.

ISCA needs your help in this and other ways. The Social Committee needs a new chairperson to coordinate the Taste of Indian Spring and other events that we look forward to every year, and can always use additional committee members/volunteers. We are also looking for a new coordinator and new block captains for the Neighborhood Watch program, and welcome any assistance with ISCA's website and newsletter.

If you are community-minded and have a little time to spare in this busy life of ours, ISCA welcomes your help!

I strongly urge everyone to attend the Purple Line hearing on November 22nd (see article for details). If you want to see the purple line a reality, then you need to show elected officials that it is important to you. Make sure to bring your neighbors.

Purple Line

Greener

Future

www.PurpleLineNOW.com

BENEFITS

The Purple Line is a light rail addition to the region's rail system, that would run from Bethesda to New Carrollton -- with stops in Chevy Chase, College Park, Silver Spring, Long Branch, Takoma-Langley and more. In the midst of growing concern about our climate, unceasing traffic congestion, long commutes, and a looming recession impacted by high gas prices -- the Purple Line would take 20,000 cars off the road, shorten commutes and improve our economy.

The Purple Line Means:

- Faster Commutes
- Less Pollution
- Better Hiker/Biker Trails
- More Jobs
- Higher Property Values
- Stronger Communities

ACT NOW

For over 20 years, environmental, civic, business, and activist groups have been fighting to add a Purple Line to the region's rail system. But for this to become a reality, we must act now.

Attend a Hearing: The state will hold four hearings to hear community input on the Purple Line: 11/15 New Carrollton, 11/18 Bethesda, 11/19 College Park & 11/22 Takoma Park. For info on locations & times or to RSVP, contact: purplecampaign@yahoo.com.

Sign Our Petition & Take Action: Please sign our petition at www.PurpleLineNOW.com. We will deliver this to MTA and elected officials. At our site, you will also be able to request a lawnsign and read about upcoming volunteer opportunities.

Write a Letter: Let the Maryland Transit Administration (MTA) know you support the Purple Line. Simply send an email to testimony@purpleline.info and it will be forwarded to MTA and key officials. Include "Purple Line DEIS" in the subject line. You can also mail comments to: Michael Madden, Project Manager Maryland Transit Administration - 6 St. Paul Street Baltimore, MD 21202

Support Purple Line NOW! Donate at PurpleLineNOW.com or by check to: Purple Line NOW! - P.O. Box 7074 - Silver Spring, MD 20907.

After attending a Nationals game, our neighbor took the bus up Colesville Road for a short walk home. The next thing he knew, he'd been shot. Luckily, he was not seriously wounded and was able to get medical attention quickly. Unfortunately, he had recently suffered a home robbery and theft of his car.

Working with our ISCA Board and president, I and other community members have started organizing a "Take Back the Neighborhood" rally to continue creating community awareness and support for all our neighbors who have suffered from crimes perpetrated upon them personally or around their property. The event is currently scheduled for November 16th at 7:30 p.m., and will start at Leighton Avenue and continue on Worth Avenue, Baden Street, and Caroline Avenue, ending at the Indian Spring Recreation Center. These details about the rally, such as its route and conclusion at the Recreation Center are also included on the ISCA website and have been posted on the listerv. We also encourage you to get the word out to your neighbors who may not be online or who may miss the article in the newsletter.

While we have published the information on our website, in our newsletter, and discussed it over our listerv, there are still people in our neighborhood who are not aware of the crime. While Indian Spring continues to experience an increase in petty burglary and theft crimes, we are now experiencing an escalation in violence. It's time that we send a public message that criminals are not welcome in our community.

Take Back The Neighborhood Rally agenda:

7:30 p.m. Meet at Leighton Avenue and Colesville Road to create awareness about, foster community support for, and prevent violent crime in our neighborhood. Remember to bring a flashlight and wear light colored clothing and reflective gear.

7:40 p.m. Depart Leighton Avenue and walk toward the Indian Spring Recreation Center.

8:10 p.m. Arrive at the Indian Spring Recreation Center for refreshments (desserts, coffee, and hot chocolate) and a discussion about how crime has affected our neighbors and what we can do to help them feel safer. Provide community members any updates since the October 20th meeting.

Route map:

The DEIS is available at area libraries (complete listing on the MTA website).

The two Montgomery County hearing dates are now confirmed as follows:

- Saturday, November 22, 2008—Open House: 12:30 p.m. Hearing: 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. Montgomery College, Takoma Park/Silver Spring Campus, Falcon Hall, 7600 Takoma Avenue, Takoma Park, MD 20912
- Tuesday, November 18, 2008—Open House: 4:30 p.m. Hearing: 5:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. National 4-H Youth Conference Center, 7100 Connecticut Avenue, Chevy Chase, MD 20815

For over 20 years, environmental, civic, business, and activist groups have been fighting to add a Purple Line to the region's rail system. For this to become a reality, we must act now. This light rail project would run from Bethesda to New Carrollton, with stops in Chevy Chase, College Park, Silver Spring, Takoma/Langley, and more. More importantly, in the midst of growing concern about our climate, unceasing traffic congestion, long commutes, and a looming recession impacted by high gas prices, the Purple Line would encourage environmentally responsible development, take 20,000 cars off the road, shorten commutes and improve our economy. The Purple Line provides a better transportation alternative than accommodating cars, such as by widening the Capital Beltway.

In April 2008, ISCA passed the following resolution:
“ISCA supports the building of the Purple Line from New Carrollton to Bethesda. We prefer the light rail option over the bus rapid transit option as it provides better travel times and ridership projections. We favor the Purple Line as the first major step forward toward developing transit solutions to our transportation needs in preference to highway solutions and we continue to oppose Beltway widening.”

Please note that when we passed this resolution, we did not take a position on any particular routes.

There are several actions you can take to make this Light Rail Transit Line a reality.

1. Attend one of the MTA hearings. This is the most critical because it will demonstrate most visibly to elected officials that you support the Purple Line.

These hearings involve testimony on the Draft Environmental Impact Statement (DEIS). Please encourage as many of your neighbors and friends to also attend. Politicians pay attention to who and how many attend these hearings.

If you belong to an organization that has a stake in the Purple Line, we urge you to ensure that you or a representative of your organization testifies at one of the four MTA hearings. Please contact Tony Hausner at thausner@gmail.com or 301-587-6943 to discuss.

2. Sign the On-Line petition TODAY. Help Purple Line advocates reach our goal of 5,000 signatures—a small percentage of the 1.5 million daily transit riders in our region. Go to: purplelinenow.com for a direct link to the petition. There is also a link to request one of our new “Purple Line Greener Future” lawn signs at this page.

3. Put up a lawn sign or hand out flyers to neighbors. Contact purplecampaign@yahoo.com to help.

4. Make a donation. Finally, Purple Line NOW! is committed to ensuring that our transportation future is not dictated by the wealthy members of the Columbia Country Club or Town of Chevy Chase. If you can help defer the cost of printing or conducting this grassroots campaign, PLN will appreciate any donation—be it $25, $250 or $2,500. Send a check today to Purple Line NOW! P.O. Box 7074 Silver Spring, MD 20907-7074, or you may click-and-pledge your donation at www.purplelinenow.com.

We hope to see you at the public hearing on November 22nd!

Shooting Victim Speaks Out, Police Strive to Reassure Community at ISCA Meeting on Crime

By Walter J. Gottlieb

ISCA’s community meeting on crime on October 20th at the Rec Center included an impassioned testimonial from the victim of this summer’s shooting and a large contingent from the Montgomery County police, striving to reassure the community that they are doing their best to fight crime in our neighborhood.

John Lindsay, who was shot and wounded last summer after getting off the bus near Leighton Avenue and Colesville Road, spoke publicly for the first time about the incident. With his wife, Elaine, at his side, Lindsay said he was lucky not to have been more seriously wounded and didn’t want to see the same thing happen to anyone else in the community. He credited the lighting on Leighton Avenue with possibly saving his life, explaining that when he ran into a well-lit area to escape the assailants, they fled. He made a plea for better lighting throughout the neighborhood. Lindsay also said he believed police are doing what they can to solve the crime.

Third District Commander Donald Johnson bristled at a question seeking reassurance that the police are, in fact, putting forth their best effort to investigate the shooting, which remains unsolved after two months. Johnson said that the police depend on the public’s confidence that they are doing their job; without it, he said, the police cannot be effective. Sgt. Keith Mathis told community members that his detectives are pursuing the case with due diligence—and will continue to do so.

According to police statistics, several categories of crimes—including thefts from vehicles and home burglaries—increased steadily between 2006 and 2008 in the reporting area that includes Indian Spring.

Acknowledging that crime here has increased, the police re-iterated that Indian Spring is still a “relatively safe neighborhood” with a very small share of the County’s serious crimes.

Commander Johnson, in response to a resident’s question, said he doubts that gang activity is responsible for the increased crime in the neighborhood, but he believes it contributed to the spate of violent robberies in downtown Silver Spring, which, he said, police have successfully reduced during the past month.

Earlier this fall, the police told ISCA that they had increased patrols in the neighborhood in response to rising crime. At the October 20 meeting, Lt. Eric Burnett declined to provide specifics about patrols in the neighborhood. Lt. Burnett said he could not tell community members exactly where patrol cars were at any given time, but assured the audience that they are there. Several of the officers present made the point that police manpower and resources are stretched thin. They said that the third district does not even meet the national standard of one officer per 1,000 residents. In response, the ISCA board pledged to urge County Executive Ike Leggett not to advocate cuts in police funding for the coming fiscal year.

The police showed up in force at the meeting. Commander Johnson was accompanied by Lt. Burnett, Sgt. Mathis, Community Relations Officer Joy Patil, a crime statistician and another uniformed officer. Representatives from the State’s Attorney’s office and Council Member Valerie Ervin’s office also appeared at the meeting, in addition to state delegate Tom Hucker. For more than an hour, the police took questions from community members on everything from the causes of increased crime to confusion over how best to report suspicious activity.

The idea of community patrols came up for the second year in a row. Commander Johnson and the other police representatives endorsed the idea, saying that community patrols can be a symbolic—and practical—deterrent against crime. After the police left, community members expressed support for having ISCA explore the possibility of community patrols, which would involve small groups of residents patrolling the neighborhood and reporting suspicious activity to police.

There was also discussion of a “porchlight campaign” to encourage residents to keep their porch lights on at night to help deter crime.

ISCA Board member Allegra Tasaki unveiled plans for a “Take Back the Neighborhood” rally (against crime) on November 16th, and board member Tony Hausner made a plea for additional block captains for the Neighborhood Watch program.

Community Meeting on Crime

Police offered precise tips for preventing crime and staying safe. Among the highlights:

- Don't walk alone at night
- Remove valuables from your vehicle and lock it up
- Keep your property well lit, trim hedges where criminals can hide
- Consider installing a home security system
- Report suspicious activity to police

Commander Johnson said that criminals are opportunists looking for “the softest targets” where they can “get in and out quickly without being detected.”

He said they are least likely to burglarize a property that’s well lit, has few hiding places, and a sign stating that the house is protected by a security system. “They’ll move on to the next house,” he said.

He also cautioned against opening the door for people claiming to be door-to-door salespeople. He said many of them are unlicensed or even involved in fraudulent schemes, and encouraged residents to report any suspicious persons going door-to-door to police.

Police were asked about confusion in the community (most notably on the listserv) about how best to report suspicious activity. Community Relations Officer Joy Patil and Lt. Burnett attempted to clear up the confusion. The bottom line: if you see someone suspicious who may be about to commit a crime (lurking, hiding in the bushes, moving toward a house, a car, or a victim) call 9-1-1. If you see someone suspicious but it does not appear that a crime is imminent, call the non-emergency number (301-279-8000). Officer Patil stressed that all 9-1-1 calls are prioritized according to urgency, so you will not be tying up police resources by dialing 9-1-1. The most important thing, she said, is to report suspicious persons or activity, regardless of which number you choose to call.

SET with staging expertise that appeals to the buyers who shop in our neighborhood. I know what they are looking for. I stage your home appropriately at no additional charge to you. Buyers will love what they see.

SOLD for $5,000 over list with multiple offers, in less than 3 days! My strategy beats the market trends.

Her motto, "Selling fewer homes better", is true to life. From our perspective, the quality of her services sets her above all the other real estate agents with whom we have ever worked.
— Jim And Patty Van Cott

Despite an extremely difficult agent representing the seller, Tamara helped us get our offer accepted above a competing offer. She had to deal with constant tension and lack of cooperation from the seller's agent, but Tamara got us to closing. Tamara Kucik is a remarkably professional and ethical real estate agent. She works hard and knows every aspect of her business.
— Curtis Trimble and Alejandra Gonzalez

The most important aspect of our relationship with Tamara was her honesty and integrity. In this respect as well as others, Tamara was the strongest of the three agents we have dealt with over the years. We always knew that she was working for us and was there for us.

ISCA Puts the Focus on Pedestrian Safety

By Eileen Fisher

County Executive Ike Leggett and the Presidents Council of Silver Spring Civic Associations (PREZCO) have made pedestrian safety a top priority. As part of that initiative, on October 8, ISCA put the spotlight on pedestrian safety. Led by Jim Hoskinson, accompanied by adults and siblings, and escorted part way by Montgomery County Police, more than 50 children from Highland View Elementary School participated in the “Walking School Bus.” The children walked from several starting points in the neighborhood and converged at Franklin and Wire Avenues, where they met up with Miss Dardarian, Highland View’s Principal, and other school bus walkers. The group then walked the rest of the way to school.

In another component of the pedestrian safety initiative, Jennifer Chambers, Holly Rothrock, and I hung posters and chalking messages on the pavement at key intersections urging drivers to “share the road” and “watch for walkers.” Many thanks go to Jennifer Chambers for her hard work on improving pedestrian safety.

Raise Your Voices and Celebrate the Holidays with Your Neighbors!

By Celeste Raker-Dillen

The Indian Spring Holiday Celebration will be held on Sunday December 7th in the field near Granville and Hastings Drive. Come share a sweet treat with your neighbor, listen to the story of Hanukkah, adorn the ISCA Christmas Tree with your donated, non-breakable ornament, all the while marveling at the previous years’ contributions, sing a Christmas carol or two, and watch the tree light up— thanks to our neighborhood dentist, Dr. King who kindly donates the electricity. Please bring a non-perishable food item to donate to Shepherds Table. Ceremonies will begin at 5:00 p.m.

See you there!

FallFest a Success in Spite of the Rain

By Celeste Raker Dillen

The 2008 FallFest held on Saturday, October 25th turned out to be a fun and delicious way to spend a very rainy Saturday afternoon. Neighbors gathered in the Recreation Center and the tents outside to enjoy the chili contestants' special recipes, hotdogs grilled by dedicated grill masters Willard Morris and Jim Caron, root beer floats, and treats brought by neighbors. Jimmy Bingo donated his marvelous voice and equipment for lively music for all to enjoy. We also had the opportunity to chat with County Executive Ike Leggett and Maryland State Senator Jamie Raskin. Children not only had a blast playing in the downpours but also had fun with a variety of activities including: making crafts under the expert direction of Ashley Marchionini; getting creatively face-painted by Leora Gottlieb, Kinsley Gibb, and Joy Turner; decorating cupcakes under the patient direction of Anne Keeler; and donning tattoos with the careful help of Sue Wilson and Joanna Warden.

Many thanks go to one dozen-plus chili chefs who warmed a soggy crowd with some very tasty pots of chili. After tallying the more than 70 votes cast, the Golden Ladle and Hard Time Café gift certificate was awarded to Tom Linstrom, whose award-winning chili earned him 16 votes; 2nd place went to Dave Wilson's "Voter Fraud" chili with 12 votes. The "Hit the Spot" Chili garnered 3rd place with 10 votes. Thanks go to Eric Carlson, Meghan Crowley, Matt Dinkel, Dan Freedman, Joe Kowal, Anita Manning, Jeanne Philbin, Dan Sauter, Andrew Schneider, Earl Shoop, Libby Turpen and all those surprise entries for their yummy chilies. Kudos to Eileen Fisher and Harvey Valentine for leading the chili cook-off.

So many friends and neighbors helped make this event possible that it is hard to list everyone. First of all, a big thank you to Rhonda Mortensen of Long and Foster Realtors for a generous contribution for FallFest expenses. Thanks to the Social Committee whose dedication made both FallFest and the FallFest Raffle a possibility. Thanks also to the ISCA board members for their support and participation.

Taste of Indian Spring Needs New Leadership

Dear Friends and Neighbors,

The Taste of Indian Spring is one of the best ISCA events in our neighborhood, emphasized by community spirit. It brings our neighborhood out of winter hibernation, marking the beginning of Spring and offering a chance to see folks we haven't seen in months. The Taste builds a stronger local business community by giving businesses a chance to showcase their menus to potential customers. Lastly, it extends our community boundaries to include our elected officials, as many are known to drop by for a visit.

I have led the Taste of Indian Spring since 2005, and am now in a position where I need to pass the responsibility to a new leader. The task involves soliciting both local restaurants for donations and volunteers within the community. Daunting? Maybe, but I have found it very rewarding. I am always left with a renewed gratitude for our neighborhood, our local businesses, and all who contribute to its success.

This is a neighborhood tradition that should not end because a new leader can not be found. Please contact me if you are interested.

- Since 2001...
- ★ I've listed 86 homes and represented 70 buyers in Silver Spring alone!
 - ★ My average listing price was $454,312 and I got sellers 99% of the original price!
 - ★ These listings sold in an average of 30 days.

- In 2007-2008...
- ★ I had 24 listings and 50% of these sold in less than 30 days. That's impressive in this current buyers market with lots of home inventory available!
